from his arrival in Britain in the 1950s and involvement in the New Left to founding the field of cultural studies and examining race and identity in the 1990s and early 2000s Stuart Hall has been central to shaping many of the cultural and political debates of our time. Essential Essays, a landmark two-volume set, brings together Stuart Hall's most influential and foundational works spanning the whole of his career. These volumes reflect the breadth and depth of his intellectual and political projects while demonstrating their continued vitality and importance. Volume 1, Foundations of Cultural Studies, focuses on the first half of Hall's career when he wrestled with questions of culture, class, representation, and politics. This volume's stand-out essays include his field-defining Cultural Studies and Its Theoretical Legacies, the prescient The Great Moving Right Show, which first identified the emergent mode of authoritarian populism in British politics, and Encoding and Decoding in the Television Discourse, one of his most influential pieces of media criticism. As a whole, Volume 1 provides a panoramic view of Hall's fundamental contributions to cultural studies.

Our Voices: Essays in Culture, Ethnicity, and Communication examines intercultural communication through an array of cultural and personal perspectives with each of its contributors writing a first-person account of his or her experiences in the real world. While most readers are collections of scholarly essays that describe intercultural communication, Our Voices presents short, student-oriented readings chosen with an eye toward engaging the reader. Collectively, the readings tackle the key areas of communication: rhetoric, mass communication, and interpersonal communication, using a uniquely expansive and humanist perspective that provides a voice to otherwise marginalized members of society. Praised by students for its abundance of short, first-person narratives, Our Voices traverses topics as diverse as queer identity, racial discourse in the United States, survival mechanisms in Jamaican speech, and codes of communication in nontraditional families.
